REPORT OF POLICE

PUBLIC WELFARE STATISTICS SHOW POLICE OPERATIONS FOR MONTH OF MAY

It has been apparent for some time that the City of Glendale is making a steady progress in the betterment of morals. The report of police operations for the month of May show that crime in the city has decreased. It also shows the cost at which the city is policed.

There are ten persons devoting all or part of their time to police service in Glendale. Five regular police officers are in employment. One of these, Patrolman Hollenbeck, gives one-half of his time to milk inspection. Two of the officers are on day duty. Three are on night duty. The average number of hours per day given to duty by each officer is 9 8-10. The cost per hour of service of each regular police officer is $.3365. The time devoted to police service in conjunction with other service was 594¼ hours and the cost of such service $.2524 per hour.

The officers distributed their time as follows: Patroling, 1002.05 hours; cost per hour $.3323; total cost $333.

Investigating 60 hours, 55 minutes; cost per hour $.347; total cost $21.13.

In court, 8 hours; cost per hour $.32; total cost $2.56.

At desk, 748 hours, 30 minutes; at desk cost per hour, $.276; total cost $2.56.

Police judge one hour, cost per hour $.27, total cost $.27. Total cost of all time devoted to police service $563.62.

During the month 81 messages were received. One of these was connected with the public service, six with the street service, 3 with the forestry service, 3 with the health service, 67 with the police service, one was a social service message. The total time devoted to investigating police messages was 57 1-3 hours. The average time devoted to each message was 1 hour 14 3-5 minutes and the average cost per message $.433.

Of the 10 arrests made during the month one was a drunk and disorderly case; 3 were cases of theft; 2 were traffic cases and 4 miscellaneous.

These cases were disposed of as follows: Of the court complaints three plead guilty and two were convicted on trial. That gave 5 convictions and the total amount of fines collected from these cases was $23.

Judge Whomes notes a constant improvement in the morals and conduct of the city and City Manager Watson also states that the city is vastly improved and that the police department is working efficiently and smoothly.

LAST MEETING OF THE YEAR

The Glendale Federation of P. T. A. will hold their last meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Chas. Toll on Kenneth road. Picnic lunch will be served at noon, on long tables spread under the inviting shade of the pepper trees. In the afternoon beginning at 2 p. m., a carefully arranged program will be given, followed by the installation of the new officers.

All members of the P. T. A. in Glendale are invited to be present. Bring your lunch and spend a happy day at the close of this delightful year.

BREAKS PERMIT RECORD

Glendale broke its building permit record Monday when four permits were issued. One of these was for a garage, to be built by A. E. Vose, 1518 Oak street, at a cost of $200. Another was for a small garage, by L. Gillan, at Lomita avenue, at a cost of $45. Lena W. McKay obtained a permit for a $1500 bungalow at 2721 W. Ninth street and H. Venske another for a $2000 cottage at 419 N. Maryland avenue.

FARMING VACANT LOTS

It will be remembered that a great deal was said and written last year about the profit to be made from the farming of vacant lots. In consequence of the publicity given to the vacant lot gardening or farming plan a great many vacant lots were given over to the growing of potatoes, corn and other produce. It would be interesting to learn the result of this planting and the success achieved by those who undertook to carry out the plan. Those who have had experience in this matter which they think would be profitable or interesting to the public to know are requested to send in the stories of their vacant lot farming to the Glendale Evening News.

PUBLIC SERVICE WORK

COMPLETE WATER SYSTEM TO BE GIVEN REMINGTON DISTRICT BY JULY 1

Among other bits of miscellaneous work done recently throughout the city by the Public Service department was the installation of the big electric lights at the Pacific Avenue playground on the occasion of the Peace Pageant. Those who witnessed that picturesque affair know how effective the lighting system was.

The department is now occupied in putting 6-inch cast-iron pipe at Dryden and Remington streets, in the newly annexed Remington district. The fire hydrants are also being put in and it now is becoming certain that the department will be able to give the district a complete water service by July 1, according to promise.

Work is being done on the bringing of a water system to the Kalem Moving Picture company, on Verdugo road. A small pump is being installed at the road level and the water will be pumped up to the Kalem studio and also to the Tight property which is higher up.

Doran street line, on which work has been progressing for some time, is now practically ready. Connections will be made the moment valves arrive. These are expected at any moment.

In connection with the work that is being done on Broadway in the matter of the installation of the street railway running from Glendale avenue to the Childs' tract it may be noted that easements have been signed by which right to install poles for the trolley system have been granted. This makes it possible to have as few poles as there are on the present Broadway system and to keep them off the street itself.

On Chestnut street, east of Glendale avenue, the department is at present installing street lights.

SENIOR PLAY TONIGHT

Under the direction of Miss Abbie C. Terry, of the high school faculty, the Senior play, "The Cabinet Minister," by Arthur Pinero, will be presented. The farce contains a large number of characters and the company has been working hard at rehearsals. The dress rehearsal was held Monday night and everything went off well. The stage settings are appropriate as are the costumes, which include court dress and Highland Scotch costumes and are picturesque and attractive. The cast consists of Lola East, Dorothy Cloud, Ethel West, Katheryne Green, Rachel McClure, Mary Hunt, Goldie Drake, Margaret McPherson, George Dyer, William Renshaw, William Bode, Joseph Maier, Samuel Merriken, Mervyn Mills, Howard Stickney and Eldred Marlatt.

MOTHERS' READING CIRCLE

As a number of the ladies who are members of the Pacific Avenue Mothers' Reading circle were engaged in settling up the affairs of the Peace Pageant, Monday, the meeting of the circle was rather slimly attended. Those present were: Mrs. Minette Sherman, Mrs. Hildreth, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. George Herald and Mrs. Stephen C. Packer. The circle continued its reading and study of Elizabeth Harrison's "Misunderstood Children."

WEEDS IN PARKINGS

It is worth noting that while those who are responsible for the destruction of weeds in vacant and other lots have in a majority of cases done the work thoroughly and have included in their clearing work the street parkings, others apparently laboring under the idea that the clearing of the parkings is to be done by the city have left the weeds on those places untouched. The parkings should be all cleared as if this is not done the city will do the work and the cost will be charged to the lots in question.

ELKS FOR PREPAREDNESS

Glendale Elk Lodge, No. 1289, will march in a body in the Preparedness Parade, on Flag Day, Wednesday, June 14. Every member is expected to be in line. The lodge will march in a body headed by its band and drill corps. The other members of the lodge will be in white suits. All the Elk lodges of Southern California are expected to be present.

WILL GO TO PRESS EARLY

On account of planning to go to press earlier than usual tomorrow all news and advertising copy should be in the hands of the compositors not later than 8 a. m.

POLITICAL DECLARATIONS OF CANDIDATES

HUGHES FOR OUT AND OUT AMERICANISM—WILSON FOR PREPAREDNESS—ROOSEVELT OUT OF POLITICS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, June 13.—Replying to Oscar Strauss, Progressive leader, today, Hughes said: "I stated my position very clearly in my telegram of acceptance. My platform is one of undiluted Americanism. Anyone who supports me supports an out-and-out American policy—nothing else." Strauss calls on all Progressives to support Hughes.

Addressing the graduating class at West Point today President Wilson said: "The world is going to know that when America speaks she means what she says. Undoubtedly gentlemen it is the duty of America to be prepared."

Col. Roosevelt today declared that he was out of politics, but would not abandon the struggle to place the United States on a proper basis of preparedness.

U. S. TROOPERS KILL MEXICAN BANDITS

DETACHMENT OF FIRST CAVALRY PURSUES AND ENGAGES FLYING VILLISTA BANDS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

COLUMBUS, N. M., June 13.—By rapid dashes the first cavalry, under the command of Capt. Retheret, overtook and engaged a band of flying Villistas, Monday afternoon. The United States troopers were four days in pursuit. On the fourth march they came in sight of several scattered bands of the Villista bandits and immediately opened fire on them. Three Mexicans were killed. The others scattered among the hills. There were no American casualties. The American cavalry is still in pursuit.

IMMENSE CROWD MOURNS KITCHENER

KING, QUEEN AND NOBILITY OF BRITAIN ATTEND SERVICES IN MEMORY OF BRITISH LEADER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, June 13.—Never has there been a greater tribute paid to the memory of any of Britain's great soldiers than that accorded the late Lord Kitchener, who lost his life when the Hampshire struck a mine off the Orkney islands, last week. The memorial services held in Westminster abbey, this morning, were attended by King George and Queen Mary and all the other members of the Royal family, the royal entourage was present, the peer of the realm, many great soldiers and statesmen. The abbey was filled and even the aisles were crowded. The services were profoundly impressive. An immense crowd stood outside in respectful and mournful sympathy.

RUSSIANS HAMMERING AWAY AT LEMBERG

MISCOVITE GEN. BRUSSILOFF IS DISORGANIZING AUSTRIANS BY RAPIDITY OF HIS ADVANCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, June 13.—On a battle line of 600 miles, stretching from Riga to the Roumanian border, the Russian forces are pressing the Germans and the Austrians so hard that it is a question if even the German lines can hold. At one place the Russians broke through seventeen lines of barbed wire entanglements. Gen. Brussiloff is hammering his way to Lemberg, and advancing with giant strides. The Austrians are apparently quite demoralized by the rapidity of the Muscovite advance. More than one-third of the Austrian forces have been killed or wounded since June 4. The number of prisoners now in Russian hands exceeds 120,000.

ROUMANIA ON EVE OF JOINING ALLIES

RUSSIAN SUCCESSES AGAINST AUSTRIA BRING QUESTION OF ACTIVE PARTICIPATION IN WAR TO FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, June 13.—There is a strong prospect that Roumania will enter the war on the side of the Allies before long. As long as Russia showed no strength in face of Germany and Austria and the Roumanians had no desire to join in the conflict. Now, however, they fear that Russian success may leave them out in the cold when the division of territory is made after the war. The feeling for participation is growing daily. As Russia advances into Bukowina Roumania feels that she can get something out of the war by joining in.

GERMAN NIGHT ATTACKS ARE REPULSED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, June 13.—German divisions, thrown forward in successive waves in a fierce night attack on the French positions east of the Meuse, penetrated the advanced trenches on hill 321. Everywhere else the attack was repulsed, the Germans losing heavily. Counter attacks are being prepared to throw the Germans out of the advanced trenches. In their assault on the positions north of the Thiaumont fortifications the Germans lost an enormous number of men and were compelled to retire.

DISCUSS ANNEXATION

GLENDALE-TROPICO CONSOLIDATION QUESTION DISCUSSED BY TRUSTEES

Dr. William C. Mabry and Frank E. Peters, president of the board of trustees of the City of Tropico, representing the Chamber of Commerce and board of trustees of Tropico, appeared before the board of trustees of the City of Glendale Monday evening relative to the question of consolidation of Glendale and Tropico.

For a number of months the people of Tropico have been aware that it is almost impossible to successfully finance the different departments of their city. There is a progressive spirit existing among municipalities of Southern California that necessitates the expenditure of considerable money to enable these municipalities to keep abreast of the times. So the final decision of some of the older and wiser heads has been that it will be to the advantage of Tropico to annex to Glendale. Glendale's municipal prosperity in the way of good water and good light service has been observed by Tropico citizens and is undoubtedly one of the reasons why they consider it good business to connect themselves with a city that will give them equally good service.

Dr. Mabry and Mr. Peters expressed themselves as being in favor of a committee of five from Tropico representing the Chamber of Commerce and the board of trustees and a committee of five from Glendale representing the same bodies getting together and coming to an understanding so far as possible as to the conditions upon which the annexation of Tropico to Glendale might be made. Mr. Peters said that there are now concessions being conducted in Tropico that would be prohibited in Glendale, and Mr. Peters thinks it would be well for the Tropico people before voting on the annexation question to have a clear understanding as to whether these concessions would be ordered closed immediately after the consolidation of the two cities. The speaker referred to the billiard hall as being one of these concessions.

The visitors were received very cordially by the Glendale board of trustees and the question of appointing a committee as requested by the visitors was referred to the committee of the whole and will probably be reported upon at the next regular meeting of the board.

INTERMEDIATE GRADUATION

Everything is in readiness at the Intermediate school for the graduation exercises which will take place in the auditorium of the school, Friday evening at 8 p. m. Seats have been reserved for the parents and friends of the graduates. These will be seated first and the rest of the auditorium will be free to the public. It is to be noted, however, that the seating space in the auditorium is very limited and on this account no children will be admitted to the non-reserved seats, as the school faculty is anxious to give adults an opportunity to see and hear the graduates. The speaker of the evening is the Rev. Reynold Blight of Los Angeles. A splendid program has been prepared.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

REPORT ON CONDITIONS IN VERDUGO CANYON—TROPICO MEN GIVEN HEARING

The board of trustees of the City of Glendale met in regular session at the city hall, Monday evening, June 12. Present, J. S. Thompson, president of the board, and trustees Chas. Grist, R. M. Jackson, F. L. Muhleman, G. B. Woodberry. Also present, T. W. Watson, city manager; J. C. Sherer, city clerk; W. E. Evans, city attorney; Edward M. Lynch, city engineer; G. H. Herald, city marshal; A. H. Lankford, fire marshal.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

On motion of Trustee Grist, the bids for furnishing tires and wheels for fire engine truck were ordered to be read. Bids were opened, read and publicly declared. One of the bidders, a representative of the Penn Oil company, was present, and addressed the board in reference to certain qualities claimed to be possessed by the output of his company. On motion of Trustee Grist, the bids were referred to the Committee of the Whole in conjunction with the fire chief and city manager.

A communication was read from the Railroad Commission of the State of California, addressed to the North Glendale Distributing company and to the board of trustees of the City of Glendale, giving notice of a hearing in the matter of the application of said company to transfer property, to be held in Glendale on June 30th.

A deed was presented signed by George W. Palmer and Katherine A. Palmer, his wife, conveying to the City of Glendale for street and highway purposes, Lots A and B of Tract Number 2685. In reference to this document, the city attorney stated that it should be accompanied by a certificate of title or other evidence showing the property clear of incumbrance. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the deed was referred to the city manager to see that the grantor's comply with the above requirements, and if so, the document will be accepted.

A communication was read from Mrs. Stephen C. Packer and other ladies, representing the executive board of the Pacific Avenue Parent-Teacher association, asking permission to withdraw the proposition previously made in regard to Pacific Avenue playground, and requesting that the board donate to this playground the same amount of support given to others (that is $50.00). Rev. Willisford addressed the board in regard to the subject, and on motion of Trustee Muhleman, it was ordered that $50.00 additional be appropriated out of the Advertising and Promotion Fund for the playground committees. This sum to be donated to the Pacific Avenue playground committee on the condition that the work that has been done by the city on these playgrounds shall be paid for by the committee. The motion was adopted by unanimous vote.

An agent of the Yosemite Laundry addressed the board in reference to the laundry license, which becomes effective June 19th. He stated that on account of the fact that he works on commission and furnishes his own team, it would be a great hardship for him to pay the increased license fee, and the probable result would be that he would have to go out of business in the City of Glendale. The matter was discussed briefly and informally, but no action was taken.

Dr. Mabry and Mayor Peters of the City of Tropico, representing the Chamber of Commerce of that place, appeared before the board. Dr. Mabry stated that their object was to request that the board of trustees of the City of Glendale appoint a committee of five citizens to act with a similar committee which has already been appointed in Tropico, to take up and discuss various matters in connection with the proposed consolidation of the two cities, in order that a thorough understanding of certain matters might be arrived at, as in his opinion it is necessary that some such action be taken. Mr. Peters spoke on the same subject along similar lines. On motion of Trustee Woodberry, the matter was submitted to the Committee of the Whole.

The city manager reported in regard to the application of the Knights Templar for financial assistance enabling that organization to fitly celebrate the occasion of the triennial conclave, that it is not possible to donate any money for this purpose on account of the lack of funds, and recommended that the city buildings be properly decorated for the occasion, and that the business concerns of the city be request-

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, JUNE 13, 1916

OPENING OF PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

Now that the Republican party has chosen Justice Hughes as its standard bearer in the coming fight for the presidency of the United States it may be well to study the outlook. At first sight it appears that all honorable opponents of the Democratic party and its policies are willing to allow that President Wilson deserves credit for having done his best in peculiarly difficult and dangerous international relations. There can be no doubt as to the honesty of his intentions, whatever may have been the result. However, those who have the highest respect for President Wilson, whose Americanism is unquestioned, believe that he should be relieved from the present burden and strain under which his administration is laboring., with the difficulties in Europe, the trouble in Mexico and the threatening aspect across the Pacific. In spite of all President Wilson's well-meant efforts to preserve peace the United States is now nearer war than it has ever been and has not the degree of preparedness its patriotic citizens are anxious it should have.

It appears also that the Progressive party by the action of its leader, ex-President Roosevelt, has gone out of the running in the presidential campaign, and that it would be well for its members to support the strong candidate the Republicans have put up. The Progressives, by their energy and by that of their leader, have forced the Republican party to adopt a great part of the reforms for which the Progressives themselves stand and to embody them in their platform. Only a thin partition separates the two divisions of the old party and it would be wise, patriotic and graceful on the part of the Progressives to unite in support of Justice Hughes, who has declared himself unequivocally in favor of the principles they support.

Those who object to the control of the Republican party by the old guard, against whom the revolt of four years ago was directed, should now consider that their revolt has forced the Republican party to modify and remake their platform and that if they desire to see further reforms in the party they can better accomplish them from the inside than from the outside.

Those who have followed Roosevelt in his courageous and fearless stand for Americanism and in his vigorous protest against anti-American affiliations and divisive Americanism may rest assured that the principles for which he stood and which he has so consistently advocated are actuating the leaders of the Republican party and the chief whom they have chosen. True Americanism now consists in getting behind this movement for the election of Charles Evans Hughes and for the elimination of the half-hearted policies that have brought so much doubt to the great heart of the country.

Whatever may be thought of the tariff policy of the party now in power it cannot be denied that whenever that party has been in power its handling of the tariff has been such as to breed distrust and to create dissatisfaction throughout the nation and has invariably led to stagnation of finance and withdrawal of capital from business. The nation, in view of so unfortunate a result, is undoubtedly turning with hope of relief to the party that stands for protection of American industries. Those who desire to see a return to prosperity would do well to get behind the standard-bearer who has declared unequivocally for that principle.

GOVERNMENTAL HEALTH INSURANCE

After investigation of working conditions in the United States the Public Health Service has come to the conclusion that twenty-five of every 1000 employes in American industries are constantly incapacitated by sickness. It is stated that the average worker loses about nine days a year on account of sickness. Much of this loss is preventable waste. The waste can be reduced by a system of governmental health insurance.

Any system of health insurance for the United States, or for any state, should have at its inception the prevention of sickness as one of its fundamental purposes. In European countries prevention is being recognized as the central idea necessary to health insurance. That idea should prevail here also, if health insurance is to attain its greatest success in improving the health and efficiency of the industrial population.

This is a singular testimony to the wisdom of the Chinese who pay their doctors to keep them in health and who stop the physician's pay the moment they get sick. This system has been in constant practice in China for many centuries. But it is only beginning to filter into the minds of a few advanced reformers in Europe and the United States.

The system proposed by the Health Service is to provide cash benefits and medical service for all wage earners during sickness at much less cost than now is possible. Adequate medical relief thus would be placed within the reach of even the lowest paid workers, who are most subject to ill health.

It is proposed also to distribute the cost among employers, employes and the public as the groups responsible for disease-causing conditions. It is also proposed to afford these groups a definite financial incentive for removing these conditions. This can be done, says the Public Health Service, by means of small weekly payments from emp'oyes supplemented by proportionate contributions from employers and government at a rate reducible in proportion to the reduction of sickness.

It is also proposed to link the co-operative efforts of the three responsible groups with the work of the national, state and local health agencies, and to utilize these agencies in the administration of the health insurance system. In this way a better basis for the co-operation of the medical profession with the public agencies will be afforded.

Naturally objection will be made to this system on the ground that it smacks of paternalism and charity-giving. This objection is met by the Public Health Service, which says that there can be no implication of charity where the employes, the public and the employers are joint agents in the control of this fund.

Naturally there is much in the European system of health insurance that would not be suited to American ideals. European states are not afraid of any charge of paternalism and they go ahead and introduce all manner of public control of individuals without so much as asking their leave. In the United States, however, a system of governmental health insurance would need to be adapted to American conditions or it would be a failure. If so adapted and after wise and judicious consideration by the best economists of the country approved and formulated, it might be productive of much good and would be likely to prove a health measure of no small value.

PIANO TEACHER CHANGES LOCATION

Mrs. Vivian R. Webb, who has successfully taught piano in Glendale for the past two years, has changed her residence to 1112 W. Seventh street. Here Mrs. Webb will be located so centrally that it will be as convenient as possible for all her pupils. The studio is much larger than formerly and is a delightful room in which to hold classes and recitals.

Mrs. Webb is a pianist of great ability and experience. She has studied under a number of celebrated instructors, notably with Mr. A. K. Virgil of New York, and in Europe with Marie Wittels, a concert pianist of Vienna.

The results which Mrs. Webb attains with her pupils are well known. She gives at least four recitals a year and by this means the young performers gain poise and self control. During the past year Mrs. Webb has incorporated into her work Mrs. Zay Rector Bevitt's system of teaching harmony by diagrams. The results have been most gratifying as the student learns harmony by its practical application to his piece or study.

Mrs. Webb will meet those contemplating study with her by appointment and gladly explain her methods and ideas. Phone Glendale 260-M.

PEDESTRIANISM ADVOCATED

All over the eastern states at present there is a movement for less haste in business life. It is maintained that Americans never rest and are so bound up in their business life that they cannot even take time to walk but must be borne about in the swiftest manner possible. Medical men and others who have the physical welfare of the nation at heart say that transportation facilities, steam railroads, elevated railroads, surface railroads, and automobile jitneys are so common that the average man cannot resist taking the means of transportation they offer with the result that he never uses the means of walking with which Nature has provided him. The average citizen, it is said, does everything in a hurry, and, in keeping with this idea, the business man never walks to business and never walks home. Usually he lives so far away from his office that he cannot walk to and from and once he reaches home he is too tired to take any exercise in the open air. This lack of pedestrianism, it is said, is the cause of much of that dyspepsia which is the curse of American business people.

WAR HITS BRITISH RICH PEOPLE

It is now maintained in England that those who will lose most by the war are the rich of that country. It is believed that the masses will be better off after than before the war. The British optimists hope that those who have hitherto been society's parasites will have to foot the war bills. It is argued that the money which the parasites of society had did society no good and it can do no harm to have it taken away from them. This, it is maintained, implies an economic readjustment which must make for better conditions except for those who have lived in the past on the production of the actual workers.

This view is held by a large section of the class that must do the financial suffering should this forecast be borne out by events. Many of the rich people, who are now freely termed parasites in England, are confessing that it looks as though the aristocracy will have to go to work. H. G. Selfridge, proprietor of the first American department store in London, says that this is a consummation devoutly to be wished. Many agree with him who do not want the change but at present they confess they see no way by which it can be avoided.

AN UNKNOWN LAND

Dorothy Head, a little girl, twelve years of age, of 316 Cedar street, sends the following verse to the News, showing indications of poetical faculty:

In a far-off land
I know not where,
There was a meadow
And the larks sang there.
There the bees buzzed
Merrily all day long;
While golden butterflies
Fluttered here and there.
But fairest of all was the sun,
Which shone on all this summer day.

NOTICE — Beginning Saturday, July 1, the undersigned blacksmiths of Glendale will close Saturday afternoons until further notice.

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Glendale, California, cordially invites yourself and friends to attend a free lecture on Christian Science, by Clarence C. Eaton, C. S. B., of Tacoma, Washington, member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., at Church Edifice, corner of Second Street and Maryland Avenue, on Tuesday, June 13th, 1916, at 8 p. m. 248t3

Personals

Dr. Clarence A. Webb and family have changed their residence from 1450 Lomita to 1112 W. Seventh street.

R. A. Peterson and family of 570 W. Broadway will leave tomorrow for Porterville, where they will enjoy an extended outing.

Mrs. A. M. Beamon, 245 S. Maryland, who has been quite seriously ill for some weeks past, has now recovered so far that she is able to be out part of the day.

Mrs. Bert J. Woodard of 245 S. Maryland, who has been quite ill for some days, is now quite recovered, and is looking forward to her approaching trip to the Southern states. She hopes to get away before the close of this month.

Mrs. E. C. Frank of 578 E. Third street, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Alice H. Frank, business manager of the branch of the Egan school in Glendale, paid a visit, Monday afternoon, to John S. McGroarty and Mrs. McGroarty in their mountain home above Littlelands. They also visited Mrs. McGroarty's mother, Mrs. Lubrecht, who has lived during the past four years in one of the Littleland houses, at the end of Palm avenue. The McGroartys and the Franks were old friends, when both families resided in Wilkesbarre, Pa. Miss Frank says that Mr. McGroarty, who is shortly to start on a tour of the eastern states, with his "Mission Play," expressed great interest in Glendale's "Peace Pageant" and in the work being done in the city by the Egan school, which took so prominent a part in the Pageant.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

Mrs. Charles Sanders will entertain the Foothill club, Friday, June 16, at her residence, 1320 North Brand boulevard. She will be assisted by Mrs. Julius Kranz.

W. D. McRae, field secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who has been working in Santa Clara county, establishing centers, for some time past, arrived in Gelndale Tuesday morning, having been summoned home on account of the illness of his youngest child, William, who was suddenly attacked with bronchial pneumonia. Mr. McRae was relieved to find on his arrival that the child was considerably better, and that his medical attendant anticipates his complete recovery.

What proved to be a most enjoyable luncheon was given by a few young people to Miss Laura Pentecost, a young lady who has many friends in the Foothills, Sunday. The luncheon was given in the beautiful grounds of the Casa Verdugo cafe. Miss Pentecost has been teaching school in Long Beach and is now on her way to her home in Riverside. Those present were Ruth Pierce, Gladys Anderson, Harry Francy, James McBryde and Fred Humphreys and the guest of the evening, Miss Pentecost.

ed to make a proper display. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the recommendation was adopted, and it was so ordered.

The city manager reported in regard to the application of Mr. Bakewell for a refund of a portion of the amount paid for an auto passenger carrying license, that as the applicant was in business for a short time, the sum of five ($5.00) dollars be refunded. On motion of Trustee Grist, it was so ordered.

The city manager reported that the committee appointed at the last meeting of the board to visit Verdugo canyon and the Bullock dairy, had looked into conditions in that neighborhood and recommended that Mr. Bullock's permit to operate a dairy at its present location be canceled at the expiration of thirty days from this date, and that if conditions at that time were satisfactory, a new permit be issued to him for a new location. On motion of Trustee Grist, it was so ordered, and the city manager instructed to notify Mr. Bullock of the action of the board in this connection.

The manager also reported on conditions generally in Verdugo park, as being unsatisfactory from a sanitary standpoint. On motion of Trustee Woodberry, the city manager was instructed to communicate with the Forest Grove Land company and learn their intentions in regard to the park, and that in the meantime other matters recommended by the manager in this connection be attended to.

The city manager reported having in company with Trustee Woodberry had a very satisfactory conference with the Salt Lake railroad officials in regard to their tracks and the improvement of Glendale Avenue north of First street. Said officials had agreed to the moving of tracks to one side of the street and to paving their right of way.

The city manager stated that the health officer had been scoring the various dairies in this vicinity, and suggested that it might be advisable to publish the results. On motion of Trustee Woodberry, the matter was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

On motion of Trustee Woodberry, the city manager was instructed to investigate the matter of the disposal of sewage from open vaults in Verdugo canyon.

The city attorney presented a resolution in regard to the planting of trees in certain portions of the Verdugo Wash for the protection of the city. On motion, Resolution Number 915, "A resolution of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, declaring the intention of the board to order the improvement of a certain portion of the banks of the Verdugo Wash to protect said wash from overflow in the City of Glendale," was taken up for reading. On motion of Trustee Jackson, the same upon being read was adopted, by unanimous vote.

At 9:40 p. m. a recess was taken. The board reconvened at 10:30 p. m.

On motion of Trustee Grist, the application of J. W. Crowson to operate a gasoline supply station at Colorado street and Verdugo road, was denied.

On motion of Trustee Grist, the employes of the City of Glendale, as far as it is practicable, were granted a part holiday for the day, from 11:30 a. m. June 14, in order that they may fitly celebrate Flag Day and take part if they desire in the Preparedness Parade, Los Angeles.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman, it was ordered that when the board adjourn it be to meet Monday evening, June 19, at 7:30 p. m.

MRS. WOODS ENTERTAINS

A delightfully informal evening was spent yesterday by the officers and directors of the Glendale Garden society at the home of Mrs. Nanno Woods, 1222 Milford street. No business was transacted or even spoken, as the invitations called for a social evening only. One especially successful feature of the evening was the narration by each guest present of some story or incident of their bygone school days, and very amusing these stories proved to be.

Mrs. Ella Richardson, one of the directors, was absent, owing to a trip back east; Mr. Albert Cornwell (vice-president) and wife had already started on a camping trip. With these exceptions every official was present. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Woods were: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ackley, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hartmann, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Oliver, Mrs. Frank Hester, Miss Olive Williams, Morris Caruthers, C. H. Woolsey, Mr. and Mrs. Norton Wells.

MANY LEVEL-HEADED CITIZENS

The evidence is growing that there are many citizens in Glendale who appreciate the advantages of the existence of a local daily paper in the community. Those who are familiar with the expenses connected with conducting a daily paper in a city of the location and population of Glendale know that it is not smooth sailing, and that a persistence is required on the part of the management that is not coveted by many. The management is pleased to be aware that there are so many substantial people who look at the question of supporting a daily paper wisely and stand ready to give advertising and job patronage whenever it is possible.

What Have You Decided About Canning Fruit This Year?

Many women without giving the subject careful thought have decided off-hand not to can fruit this season,—because sugar is too high.

The truth of the matter is, that the advance of sugar makes but little difference in the cost of a quart of fruit.

Most women use a maximum of a quarter to a third of a pound of sugar to each quart of canned fruit.

Now sugar is about 3 cents a pound above normal, and assuming that one-third of a pound be used in each quart jar, the additional cost of canning brought about by the high price of sugar is at the most 1 cent per quart jar.

This store will be glad to fill your order for Fruits as well as Sugar.

A NOVEL GARDENING OUTFIT

Despite the protests of women who work in their own gardens that the fancy smocks are both too warm and too much in the way, they continue to be shown in ever-increasing number in the handicraft shops. The newest one of all is a picturesque affair of dull blue linen, made rather differently from the ordinary smocks. The sleeves are broad, flaring things, similar to Japanese kimono sleeves, and the collar is a continuously flaring one, as the garment slips on over the head. The feature of this smock which decidedly is worth while and might be copied on a simpler garment is the pair of huge double pockets on the front. These pockets are made of rose-colored linen, appliqued on to the smock with coarse orange-colored yarn. They are at least a foot square and will hold trowel, dibble, pruning knife, seed packets, gardening gloves and any other small garden tools. Appliqued on the front of each big pocket is a small pocket, say four inches square, for small objects—perhaps the rings which one has forgotten to remove, or a special packet of choice seed, or change for the small boy who is helping one weed. Around the bottom of the smock is a broad band of the rose-colored linen, embroidered in a rough design with colored yarns wandering over appliqued squares of the blue linen. The pockets are also embroidered in this way, and the rose-colored collar as well; the sleeves are finished in rose bands, with blocks of blue and orange and black embroidery. A floppy hat of the same materials accompanies the smock, the edge being rolled and whipped with huge yarn stitches and the crown embroidered in a scrawly pattern over blocks of antiqued linen.

SCOTT'S POETRY

"Scott's poetry has long been out of fashion, but for those who have mastered that useful precept, that all schools have their value, who ask from Art a various and not merely a monotonous, restricted delight, it will always," Richard Le Gallienne says in one of his Retrospective Reviews, "have a real place upon their shelves, seldom, probably, to be taken down, but there and unforgotten."

"A return to Sir Walter, just now, would be a most salutary reaction of taste. . . . It is true that he was feudal and we are democratic, true that he had not in his work the curiosa felicitas of phrase we demand today, but he had instead a passion, a rhythm, of which we know little, and his heart was big with that humanity which makes aristocrat and democrat as one. Scott was so complete a man too. Like all the greatest men, he was supremely practical. His genius was but one function of his being. . . . He kept it in its proper relation to the rest of him. It did not prevent his being a true husband, an unselfish father, an active citizen."

"If he saw a duty he bent his temperament to it, instead of pleading 'genius.' It was in that spirit he first studied law, for which his father had destined him; and no one can doubt that that early discipline was largely responsible for the plodding habit of his later years. Like all strong people, he used his difficulties to make himself stronger."

" 'The Lay of the Last Minstrel,' and 'Marmion' mark the best period of Sir Walter's verse, and are indeed, with the exception of some ballads and lyrics, his most characteristic and inspired work. These poems stand the test of rereading as 'The Lady of the Lake' cannot. Their blithe songfulness, their manly rhythm, must surely keep them fresh for many a year. Men can hardly put them on the shelf till, having no further use for it, we have quite lost the touch of the lyra heroica."

KALEM ON THE DESERT

The Kalem Film company, which is at present engaged in the production of the great California dramatic serial, "The Girl from 'Frisco," made a trip to the Mojave desert, during the past week. The purpose of the company was to get a number of picturesque settings for the picture in the serial, "The Turquoise Mine Conspiracy." Miss Marin Sais is featured in this serial. The company visited the great "Yellow Aster" mine at Randsburg, which affords a most picturesque background for a picture, perched as it is at the top of a mountain, with miles upon miles of underground workings. They also took scenes throughout the Atolia tungsten district and at Searles lake, the immense soda and potash deposit of the Mojave desert. The company got back to Glendale Monday, after a most enjoyable time. The next picture in the serial will be taken in one of the active oil districts of California.

OUR NATIONAL BANNER

(Air "Star Spangled Banner")

From center to outpost in domain so wide,
Let youth and old age join in loudest hozanna;
While floating above us resplendent in pride,
Is freedom's bright emblem, Our National Banner.
In tranquility's hour, or when dark war clouds lower,
It expresses good will—or the strong arm of power;
Then let its bright folds be forever unfurled,
For freedom it stands, as the hope of the world.

Whence cometh the source of this wonderful power,
By diligent search all are able to find it;
It came as a boon in a critical hour,
With free men and women beneath and behind it.
The secret it holds in its glittering folds,
All nations in wonder this power beholds;
Then aloft with "Old Glory," none with it compare,
The Voice of "the People" is holding it there.

Oh colors most rare of the red, white and blue,
None others so charming, in harmony blending;
And destiny stars of a heavenly hue,
Shine out your bright beams to earth's limits extending.
'Tis the flag of the free, on the land and the sea,
Respected at home and abroad it shall be,
Then aloft with "Old Glory," foes touch it who dare,
The Voice of "the People" is holding it there.

It stands forth the banner of beauty and grace,
It shields and protects high and humble that love it;
Enshrined in our hearts it shall have the first place,
And no rag of insult shall be lifted above it.
Beneath it we feel all can have a square deal,
And we pledge it today new devotion and zeal;
Then aloft with "Old Glory," let it float everywhere,
The votes of free people are holding it there.

It stands for the motto—the people shall rule,
It stands for the truth that exalteth a nation.
Free press and free speech—and free public school
And free worship of God, without fear or dictation,
For freedom it stands—it is safe in our hands,
'Tis the banner of hope for all less favored lands.
This day let us all new allegiance declare,
Old Glory shall float, we are holding it there.

FUR WRAPS FOR SUMMER

By MARGARET MASON

Cause furriners in furrin parts
Wear furs in summer time,
Our summer girls still keep it up,
Sans reason and sans rhyme.

NEW YORK, June 13.—If you have a little mole on your shoulders then this summer you will be quite the thing. Also ermine or kolinsky are more to be desired than bare shoulders, even if the bare shoulders should be bear shoulders. In plain words the summer girl prefers furs on her shoulders even to wings. Like the snows of yesterday the snowy white foxes of last summer have vanished to give place to flat capes of unspotted ermine combined with moleskin, entire cape collars of kolinsky, all mole ones or all ermine ones. They are very quaint, old fashioned and bewitching so what matter if they be a bit uncomfortable when the thermometer, which is no respecter of furry fashions, begins to climb.

One lovely model of moleskin, shaped like a little triangular shawl, is edged with fringe of chenille and in fact all these little fur shoulder capes put more things on edge than teeth. A wide, straight piece of kolinsky that folds stiffly around the shoulders as if it were made of card board, fastens in front with two gorgeously enamelled buttons and is edged in a fold of chiffon. Yet another of mole cut like a semi-circle is finished with a tiny quilling of taupe satin and another of unspotted ermine is edged in lovely white scallops of itself. A stunning semi-circular cape of moleskin has a wide collar of ermine scalloped on the edge and taupe ribbon ties in front that end in cunning ball pompoms of the mole.

Just fresh from Paris on the shoulders of a war correspondent's wife arrived in New York the other day the most gorgeous cape of all. It is of kolinsky that ripples full and falls to the waist line in back and in front throws flatly across the chest like a scarf and fastens on the left shoulder.

Quite the only way in which the erstwhile popular white fox is allowed to appear is a band trimming on a wee cape of unspotted ermine and as a high collar on the same. On little shirred capes of taffeta bands and collar of white fox also are used. Maribeau and ostrich bands feather a few taffeta capes also in lieu of fur, but this season fine feathers don't make nearly so fine birds as do fine furs. This fur shoulder fad ought to prove a dandy reducing scheme not only for your pocketbook but also for your ebonpoint.

Verily a pair of too slump shoulders swathed snugly in mole or kolinsky during the torrid months will emerge drooping perceptibly when autumn calls. Shrugging of shoulders as well as hugging of shoulders will all have to be done under cover, however, and all the poor male human moth fluttering around their adored flames this summer will undoubtedly have the companionship of a large flock of moths au naturel but there's one consolation—no naughty beauty will be able to turn the cold shoulder on her lovesick swain this little old summer.

ABSENT TREATMENT FOR BUSINESSITIS

One evening some time prior to last fall, a woman's husband was discussing with his wife certain phases of business. During the conversation he told her a great secret. Into her anxious ear he whispered, "Sh-Tell not a soul! Competition is the life of trade."

That man's knowledge vault was occupied. He was doubly wise. He invented something, and picked out the best advertising medium to bring it before the public. A week after this truth was uttered it had been repeated by every inhabitant, from the cupids to the hermits.

We all admire the man, for he said something that we all knew but no one previously had the nerve to mention it in public.

Competition is the life of trade. Such being the case, we need not expect a job as pall bearer for old man Trade. He is now in perfect health, having discovered what Don Quixote so earnestly sought.

There are various species of competition.

Fair Competition is the art of creating a force of swampers without amputating profits or bruising your business reputation.

Unfair Competition is the dust of a salesman who has gathered all the orders in the territory and is traveling along an unmacadamized road in a twin six while you are trailing along in a twin two without a windshield, on your way to the graveyard to bury one of the twins.

Keen Competition is the potters' field for murdered prices.

Competition is the life of trade. Long may it live.

ABBIE BEN ADAMS

Abbie Ben Adams, may her life be spared,
Awoke one night, and felt a trifle scared;
For on her shirt-waist box, cross-legged, sate
A Vision writing on a little slate.

Exceeding nervousness made Abbie quake,
And to the Vision timidly she spake,
"What writest thou?" The Vision looked appalled
At her presumption, and quite coldly drawled,
"The list of Our Best People who depart
For water places sumptuous and smart."

"And am I in it?" asked Miss Abbie.
"No,"
The scornful Vision said. "You're poor, you know."
"I know," said Abbie; "I go where it's cheap;
I can't afford mountains or prices steep.
But, ere you leave, just jot this item down,
I never leave my cats to starve in town."

The Vision wrote, and vanished. Next night, late,
He came again and brought his little slate,
And showed the names of people really best,
And, lo! Miss Abbie's name led all the rest!
